

ABSTRACT

The title of this research is “Tokoro Conjunction As Adverbial Clause In Japanese”. The aim of this research is to describe sentences of structure and meaning of tokoro conjunction as adverbial clause in Japanese. The method used is descriptive with correct reading method and note technic. The result of this research shows that tokoro conjunction as adverbial clause in Japanese divided in two clause there are time clause (時間節 jikansetsu) and condition clause (条件節 joukensetsu). In time clause there are meaning of time relation at the same time and chronological of time relation. Whereas, in condition clause there are meaning of condition relation and relation of konsesif. The recommendation of this research except tokoro conjunction as adverbial clause many still other conjunction in adverbial clause which require to research, among others ato(de/ni), tame(ni), noni, nagara, mama(de), youni, hodo etc.

Keywords: sentences, tokoro conjunction, adverbial clause, time clause, condition clause.